

Makeover at C4

Channel 4 is a publicly-owned, commercially-funded, public service broadcaster. Its remit is to provide innovative, experimental and distinctive programming.

Channel 4 works across television, film and digital media to deliver some of the most captivating TV on air today.

Working with Active

C4's need for move management, IT engineering and relocation services at their HQ in London was a year long refurbishment and the relocation of all staff.

Pre-planning and communication meetings ensured that all parties were completely happy with the relocation and phased migration.

To ensure there was no downtime all work was carried out over weekends and through the evenings if necessary.

Our office moves solution involved:

- Relocation of over 1300 headquarters' staff
- Crate and material hire
- Extensive installation of building protection
- Post and pre relocation support
- Packing and unpacking of bulk filing systems
- Decommissioning and re-commissioning of IT, printers, and telephones
- Furniture fitting
- Thorough cleaning of IT equipment

"I really appreciate your hard work on this project. There was a huge amount to achieve in a relatively short period of time and we couldn't have done it without you".
