

ITV follow Adrian Powell to Active FM

“Active FM offers a high end removals service. The management team are very professional and the removals staff hard working.”

David Wanless, Manager, ITV Library and Media Services

His reputation for professionalism and excellent project management skills have meant that many loyal customers have brought their requirements to Active FM now that Adrian Powell has joined them. Amongst these is David Wanless of ITV.

Adrian has worked on projects involving the movement of broadcast archive materials with ITV over the past two years, both with his former company and more recently as part of Active FM.

“Adrian’s approach to removals is excellent.” states David. “He is attentive throughout the planning stages, monitors the job closely and provides good aftercare.”

“First-rate project management skills and experienced staff mean that potential issues are identified at the planning stages and lead on to an uncomplicated and stress free removal project.” continues David. Recently, Active has completed the packing, relocation and unpacking of a kilometre of tape archives in Leeds, for ITV Yorkshire and relocated the Vinyl Music Library for ITV on the Southbank, London.
